

From: Mary Lyn Hammer, representing proprietary institutions

Here is my suggested language for the notice to the employees:

(j) Employer Notification to Employees. Process for the employer to notify its employees of its ineligible status are:

(1) The employer shall notify all employees within seven (7) calendar days of receiving the Secretary's notification of its ineligibility status and the date it became effective. Such notification must be in writing using the current contact information on record for each employee.

(2) The employer shall send the Secretary a written confirmation of its compliance with the employee notification requirement within fourteen (14) calendar days of receiving the Secretary's notification of its ineligibility status.