Federal Use Only:		Authorized for Local Reproduction Standard Form - LLL (Rev. 7-97)

NOTICE TO ALL APPLICANTS

The purpose of this enclosure is to inform you about a new provision in the Department of Education's General Education Provisions Act (GEPA) that applies to applicants for new grant awards under Department programs. This provision is Section 427 of GEPA, enacted as part of the Improving America's Schools Act of 1994 (Public Law (P.L.) 103-382).

To Whom Does This Provision Apply?

Section 427 of GEPA affects applicants for new grant awards under this program. ALL APPLICANTS FOR NEW AWARDS MUST INCLUDE INFORMATION IN THEIR APPLICATIONS TO ADDRESS THIS NEW PROVISION IN ORDER TO RECEIVE FUNDING UNDER THIS PROGRAM.

(If this program is a State-formula grant program, a State needs to provide this description only for projects or activities that it carries out with funds reserved for State-level uses. In addition, local school districts or other eligible applicants that apply to the State for funding need to provide this description in their applications to the State for funding. The State would be responsible for ensuring that the school district or other local entity has submitted a sufficient section 427 statement as described below.)

What Does This Provision Require?

Section 427 requires each applicant for funds (other than an individual person) to include in its application a description of the steps the applicant proposes to take to ensure equitable access to, and participation in, its Federally-assisted program for students, teachers, and other program beneficiaries with special needs. This provision allows applicants discretion in developing the required description. The statute highlights six types of barriers that can impede equitable access or participation: gender, race, national origin, color, disability, or age. Based on local circumstances, you should determine whether these or other barriers may prevent your students, teachers, etc. from such access or participation in, the Federally-funded project or activity. The description in your application of steps to be taken to overcome these barriers need not be lengthy; you may provide a clear and succinct description of how you plan to address those barriers that are applicable to your circumstances. In addition, the information may be provided in a single narrative, or, if appropriate, may be discussed in connection with related topics in the application.

Section 427 is not intended to duplicate the requirements of civil rights statutes, but rather to ensure that, in designing their projects, applicants for Federal funds address equity concerns that may affect the ability of certain potential beneficiaries to fully participate in the project and to achieve to high standards. Consistent with program requirements and its approved application, an applicant may use the Federal funds awarded to it to eliminate barriers it identifies.

What are Examples of How an Applicant Might Satisfy the Requirement of This Provision?

The following examples may help illustrate how an applicant may comply with Section 427.

- (1) An applicant that proposes to carry out an adult literacy project serving, among others, adults with limited English proficiency, might describe in its application how it intends to distribute a brochure about the proposed project to such potential participants in their native language.
- (2) An applicant that proposes to develop instructional materials for classroom use might describe how it will make the materials available on audio tape or in braille for students who are blind.
- (3) An applicant that proposes to carry out a model science program for secondary students and is concerned that girls may be less likely than boys to enroll in the course, might indicate how it intends to conduct "outreach" efforts to girls, to encourage their enrollment.

We recognize that many applicants may already be implementing effective steps to ensure equity of access and participation in their grant programs, and we appreciate your cooperation in responding to the requirements of this provision.

Estimated Burden Statement for GEPA Requirements

According to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, no persons are required to respond to a collection of information unless such collection displays a valid OMB control number. The valid OMB control number for this information collection is 1890-0007. The time required to complete this information collection is estimated to average 1.5 hours per response, including the time to review instructions, search existing data resources, gather the data needed, and complete and review the information collection. If you have any comments concerning the accuracy of the time estimate(s) or suggestions for improving this form, please write to: Director, Grants Policy and Oversight Staff, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW (Room 3652, GSA Regional Office Building No. 3), Washington, DC 20202-4248.

Northwest Buffalo Community Center
U.S. Department of Education
General Education Provisions Act (GEPA) Requirements

Northwest Buffalo Community Center addresses each of six barriers that can impede equitable access or participation in programming, including:

Gender: Northwest Buffalo Community Center sites include a mix of boys and girls, with close to a 50/50 mix of males and females. Programming is provided to encourage both girls and boys to participate in programs, including offering recreation programs such as basketball, hockey, football and other sports that typically draw more boys and programming such as dance, soccer and other sports that often draw large numbers of girls. In addition, educational programming specific to the needs of girls, such as programming designed to reduce teen pregnancy and other problem behaviors in girls, is offered. Northwest Buffalo Community Center program staff includes both men and women in direct service and administrative positions to provide youth with role models of both genders.

Race: Northwest Buffalo Community Center provides services to children of all races residing in neighborhoods surrounding its service sites. Racial diversity is generally reflective of the racial makeup of the neighborhood. Within programs, children of all races are encouraged to take part in all programs. Northwest Buffalo Community Center staff is also reflective of the children served by the Northwest Buffalo Community Center.

National Origin: As with race, Northwest Buffalo Community Center serves children from a variety of national origins and the national origin of participants is reflective of that in the surrounding neighborhood. Programming is provided to enable children to explore and celebrate differences among participants and may include celebrations and educational programs highlighting different nations, cultures, and ethnicities. Families of children from different backgrounds are also encouraged to visit and share their background with other children to promote understanding and tolerance for people from other backgrounds.

Color: Northwest Buffalo Community Center includes children from many backgrounds, including Caucasian, African American, Hispanic, Asian and Native American, with the mix of families and children reflective of the mix of families and children in the neighborhood. Diversity, just as with racial and cultural origin, is celebrated and explored. Children and staff of all colors are made to feel welcome through offering programming designed to enable children to explore different cultures.

Disability: Northwest Buffalo Community Center provides services to individuals with physical and cognitive disabling conditions. Currently, the site utilizes the services of a tutor who is blind, and a partnership with the Elizabeth Olmstead Center for the Visually Impaired helps make that possible. Northwest Buffalo Community Center has aggressively pursued an update program to accommodate people with disabilities, including installation of three wheelchair ramps, installation of elevators inside the building to make every floor accessible, and updating handicap-accessible bathrooms.

Age: Northwest Buffalo Community Center provides programming geared for children from pre-K through high school for adults of all ages and also includes programming specific to senior citizens. Participants of virtually all ages can be found at Northwest Buffalo Community Center. In the rare instances where services are not available for someone in a particular age group, they are referred to an appropriate service provider.
